Dear Parents,

This has been a tremendous last full week of School. It started with the overwhelmingly successful Parents' Association Christmas Fayre. It ended with the Mini and Mentor party. In between was contained the triumphant three nights of the School Play. The School has been alive to the sound of music examinations and preparations for the Christmas Concert and the Carol Service. All that, plus a visit from Santa during Christmas Lunch on Thursday. What's not to like?

All the fun of the Christmas Fayre

Saturday saw the MHPA Christmas Fayre. As usual this was a joint venture between the Parents and the pupils, with the Parents raising money for the School and the girls raising money for a variety of charities. There were some splendid prizes on offer in the Parents' Association raffle and a wide range of stalls run by the girls. Particular mention also has to be made of Mrs Fyfe's book stall which did good business and catered for a range of tastes. The money is still being counted for the Parents' Association but the girls made £993.80p after costs which is a great achievement on their part.

Oh what a lovely production

This week saw the three night run of Oh what a lovely War. If you were there you know exactly what those who weren't, missed, The full review will be available in the next issue of More In Depth.

Just to clarify

There seems to be some confusion concerning dates for the end of this term and the start of next term thanks to the wonder that is the internet. We end on Wednesday 15th December at 12 noon or thereabouts depending on what time Form Rooms are declared to be cleared. We recommence for the Spring Term on Thursday 6th January at 8.25am as usual.

In the weeks to come

Monday 13th December	3.30 -4.30pm Senior Chamber Choir
Tuesday 14th December	pm: Christmas Concert rehearsals 7.30pm: Christmas Concert at Our Lady of Victories Church
Wednesday 15th December	End of term arrangements School Choir School beaks for the Christmas holiday
Thursday 6th January	8:25AM: School recommences for the Spring term

With best wishes for a peaceful and warmer weekend
